THE SENIOR CLASS
OF
CONEMAUGH TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL
AT
DAVIDSVILLE, PENNSYLVANIA

Foreword

Friendships developed through school life can best be retained by personal contact. This privilege may be denied many students, therefore, we are hopeful that through the medium of words and pictures in this book living memories may be preserved.

The editor of this yearbook was faced with the task of producing a condensed book that would contain all the usual material and innovate some new ideas. To meet these requirements smaller pictures and a different arrangement were necessary. Words and music to Alma Mater, individual faculty photos, statuary introductions, club identifications, and senior signatures were innovations used to give added interest to the production.

THE HISTORY OF THE SCHOOL

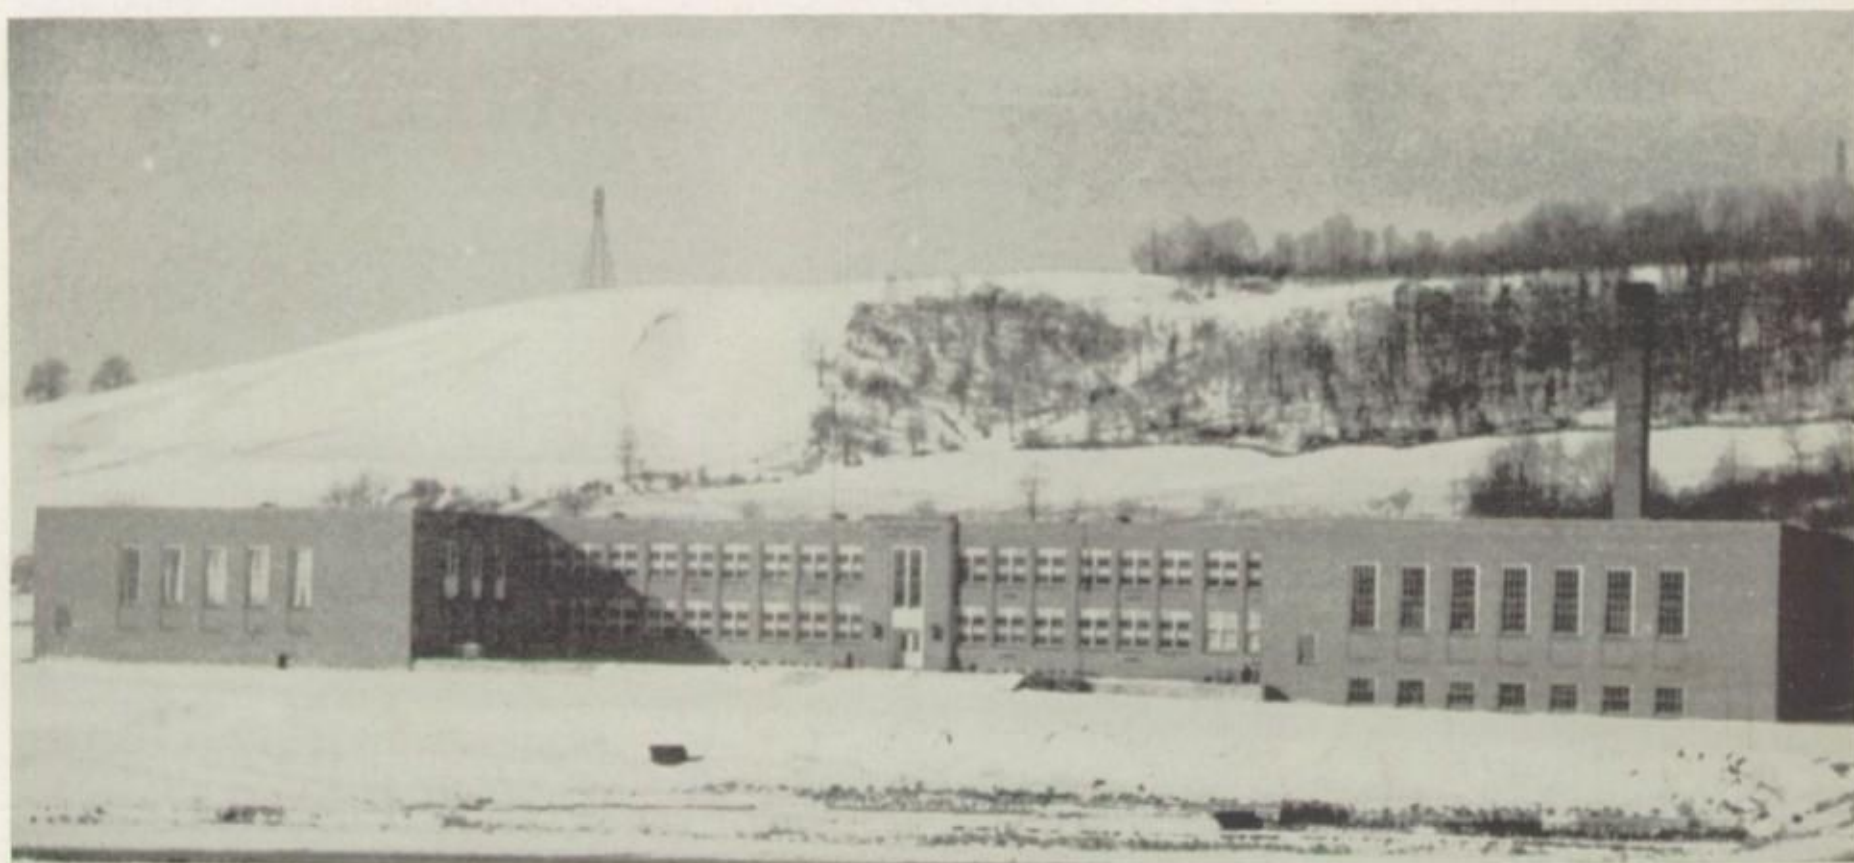

We, the 1943 Seniors, are very proud of having the privilege of graduating from one of the largest and finest rural high schools in Pennsylvania. We give our thanks to the taxpayers of the township who made this school possible by supporting its construction back in 1938-1939. The cost was more than $350,000, forty-five percent of which was contributed by the Federal government. More than 125,000 man hours were put into the building which is 408 feet long, and which has a perimeter of one quarter of a mile.

The first school term opened October 10, 1939 with an enrollment of nine-hundred-sixty students with seventy seniors. These seniors were formerly tuition students and represented eight different high schools. Not having the building completely finished during the first term the classes were held most of the year on the second floor and in the gymnasium. The second year there were 1,002 students with ninety-three in the graduating class. A slight increase was noticed the third year, 1940-41, with a membership of 1,030 including 107 graduates. During the fourth term there were 1,063 students and 133 seniors. This year's enrollment suffered a rather large decrease having 120 graduates and 980 undergraduates. Many were inducted into the services, while others left to work in war industries, thus causing a great reduction in the enrollment. The first year the faculty consisted of thirty-four members and since then has been increased to thirty-six.

Although the high school is a rural school, it offers quite a variety of courses namely: academic, commercial, vocational agriculture, vocational home economics, physical education, art and instrumental, and vocal music. The music department has made great progress since the school was organized. During the third year the Booster's Club outfitted the entire band with uniforms.

This year seven buses daily transport 965 students to the high school. These same buses also furnish transportation for the five hundred grade school children housed in six buildings. Thus our transportation bill is probably the cheapest in Pennsylvania—six cents per pupil per day.

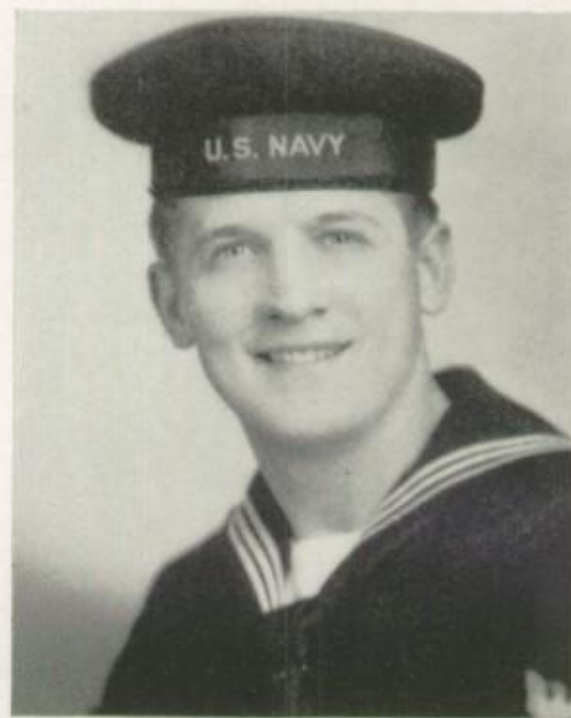

DEDICATION

In this time of national distress with the major part of the world engaged in bitter conflict, it is with pride that we dedicate this edition of the Connumach to the faculty and alumni of Conemaugh Township High School who are now in the military service of our country.

THE BUGLER SOUNDS REVEILLE AS THE SECOND

LIEUTENANTS WHO HAVE JUST RECEIVED THE HARD-

ANNABELLE BADACZEWSKI—Favoring the long trend in hair styles topped with a crow's nest, and loving to dance, she is still a happy medium to the fellows.

GENEVIEVE BAGOS—"Genie" has proved her journalistic ability by serving as assistant editor of our newspaper. Her chances of becoming a WAAC are excellent.

ELLA JANE BAILEY—Our dainty little "Janie" is frequently observed tapping out the rhythm to popular numbers.

CALVIN BARKLEY—Who has more chances of becoming the "Socrates of Tomorrow," than intelligent, upright "Butch" who is noted for his profound thinking?

DAVID BARNDT—This lad unhurried and unruffled, accompanied by a slow gait to and from class shows his deep concern over weighty problems of the farm.

EUGENE BARONI—The little friend of all the world, who is short and stocky with freckles to spare, faces life with a cheery grin.

EVELYN BARONI—Behind that quiet manner lies a dynamic force to accept the responsibilities of a true secretary to a prominent business man.

DOROTHY MAE BENSON—A cute senior girl with tiny features whose attention is attracted by the boys, especially those in uniform.

LOUIS BIENIASZ—A born "doodler", indifferent and easy going, who lives to eat and believes a classroom is the place to sleep.

ERNEST BLOUGH—The tall senior with serene blue eyes who speaks when he's spoken to and comes when he's called.

NEWTON BLOUGH, JR.—An early rising dairyman who is here today and gone tomorrow. Will this be your life's occupation, "Newt"?

THELMA BLOUGH—There was no better time to display her talent in business than in making ends meet in the publishing of this wartime yearbook.

WILLIAM BORELLE—The boy whose company is enjoyed by both sexes and who has never heard of the word worry!!! Another advocate of no homework.

CHARLES BOROSKY—Does he live to eat or eat to live? School and its disturbances roll from his back as water off a duck.

JENNIE BOROSKY—Perhaps her 5' 4" of good natured Polish descent has made her the excellent basketball and volleyball player that she is.

MOLLY CARRICO—The adept student in home economics is Molly, whose jolly roving eyes and Pepsodent smile are quite an asset to her personality.

RICHARD COLLIVER—When spotlights are turned on basketball, "Dick" is the star of stars! He also shines as a leader, singer, and speaker.

WARREN COLLIVER—The young man with a pleasing bass voice which rose above all others in "Beautiful Savior", also shows an inclination to tinker with Fords on the farm.

DORIS JEANNE CROCK—The "human chatterbox", with carefree happiness whose very neat appearance is always complimentary.

DALTON DILL—"Cookie", the future aviator possesses a keen desire for travel, which was acquired from between covers of books.

EARNED GOLD BARS, PASS IN REVIEW. WE ARE READY

TO FACE LIFE EARNESTLY AND BRAVELY, WHILE SEEK-

JENNIE DOHODA—"Chub" is a reticent girl who can always find something to occupy her mind. Her C. T. H. S. classmates wish her success in any field of work she may choose.

EUGENE DONATI—"Big things come in little packages" and "Bonehead" is no exception. His disputatious nature and serious countenance win him many an argument.

RUTH DURST—What a quiet and reserved girl! Yes, she never pries into other people's affairs but always finds something to do.

ESTHER EASH—Esther can always be depended upon for any job. We raise our hats to her for her tireless work for success of our yearbook. Friendliness and determination are also to her credit.

FERN FURL—When not cooking, baking, washing dishes or sewing, she may be found in a nook reading a book unconscious of her surroundings.

RICHARD FOUST—In shop class Richard is an authority. He makes the honor roll and is no longer a woman-hater but would ever be a book-lover.

PETE FRACOS—Our own "Walt Disney" of the future. He is quiet, unassuming, and a good friend if you get to know him.

FLOYD FRAMPTON—One of our well-liked seniors who without fail comes into homeroom after devotions with his mouth full of hamburg and two more refills.

ADA FRANCESCHI—Ada, who loves to tease is another man-hater. Oh, we have a feeling she is fooling!

PAUL GALLO—"Go-Go" and his sound of a good horse laugh, makes the world O. K. with him. Where do you get those dark, snappy eyes, Paul?

ROBERT GEISEL—"Bob" is a future forester with an unswerving purpose—more dogs, more guns, and more game.

RUTH GEORG—A sport's enthusiast and a spectator with a devilish twinkle and a friendly shove who doesn't let even P. O. D. get her down.

MARY GINDLESPERGER—Hustling here and there she never seems to slow down. She is jolly and good humored with a decided ambition in life.

PAUL GINDLESPERGER—Monday morning finds Paul in school with drooping eyelids, nodding head, and arrested yawn. Certainly, he must be WIDE AWAKE when hunting.

WILMER GINDLESPERGER—We know that huckleberries don't agree with "Wimpy" but why should he shorten the lives of those striped "halitosis kittens" underneath the chicken coops?

LUCY GIRONDA—She's the commercial student with a slow, shy smile; one of the few seniors without a "wagging tongue" and "spasmodic giggle."

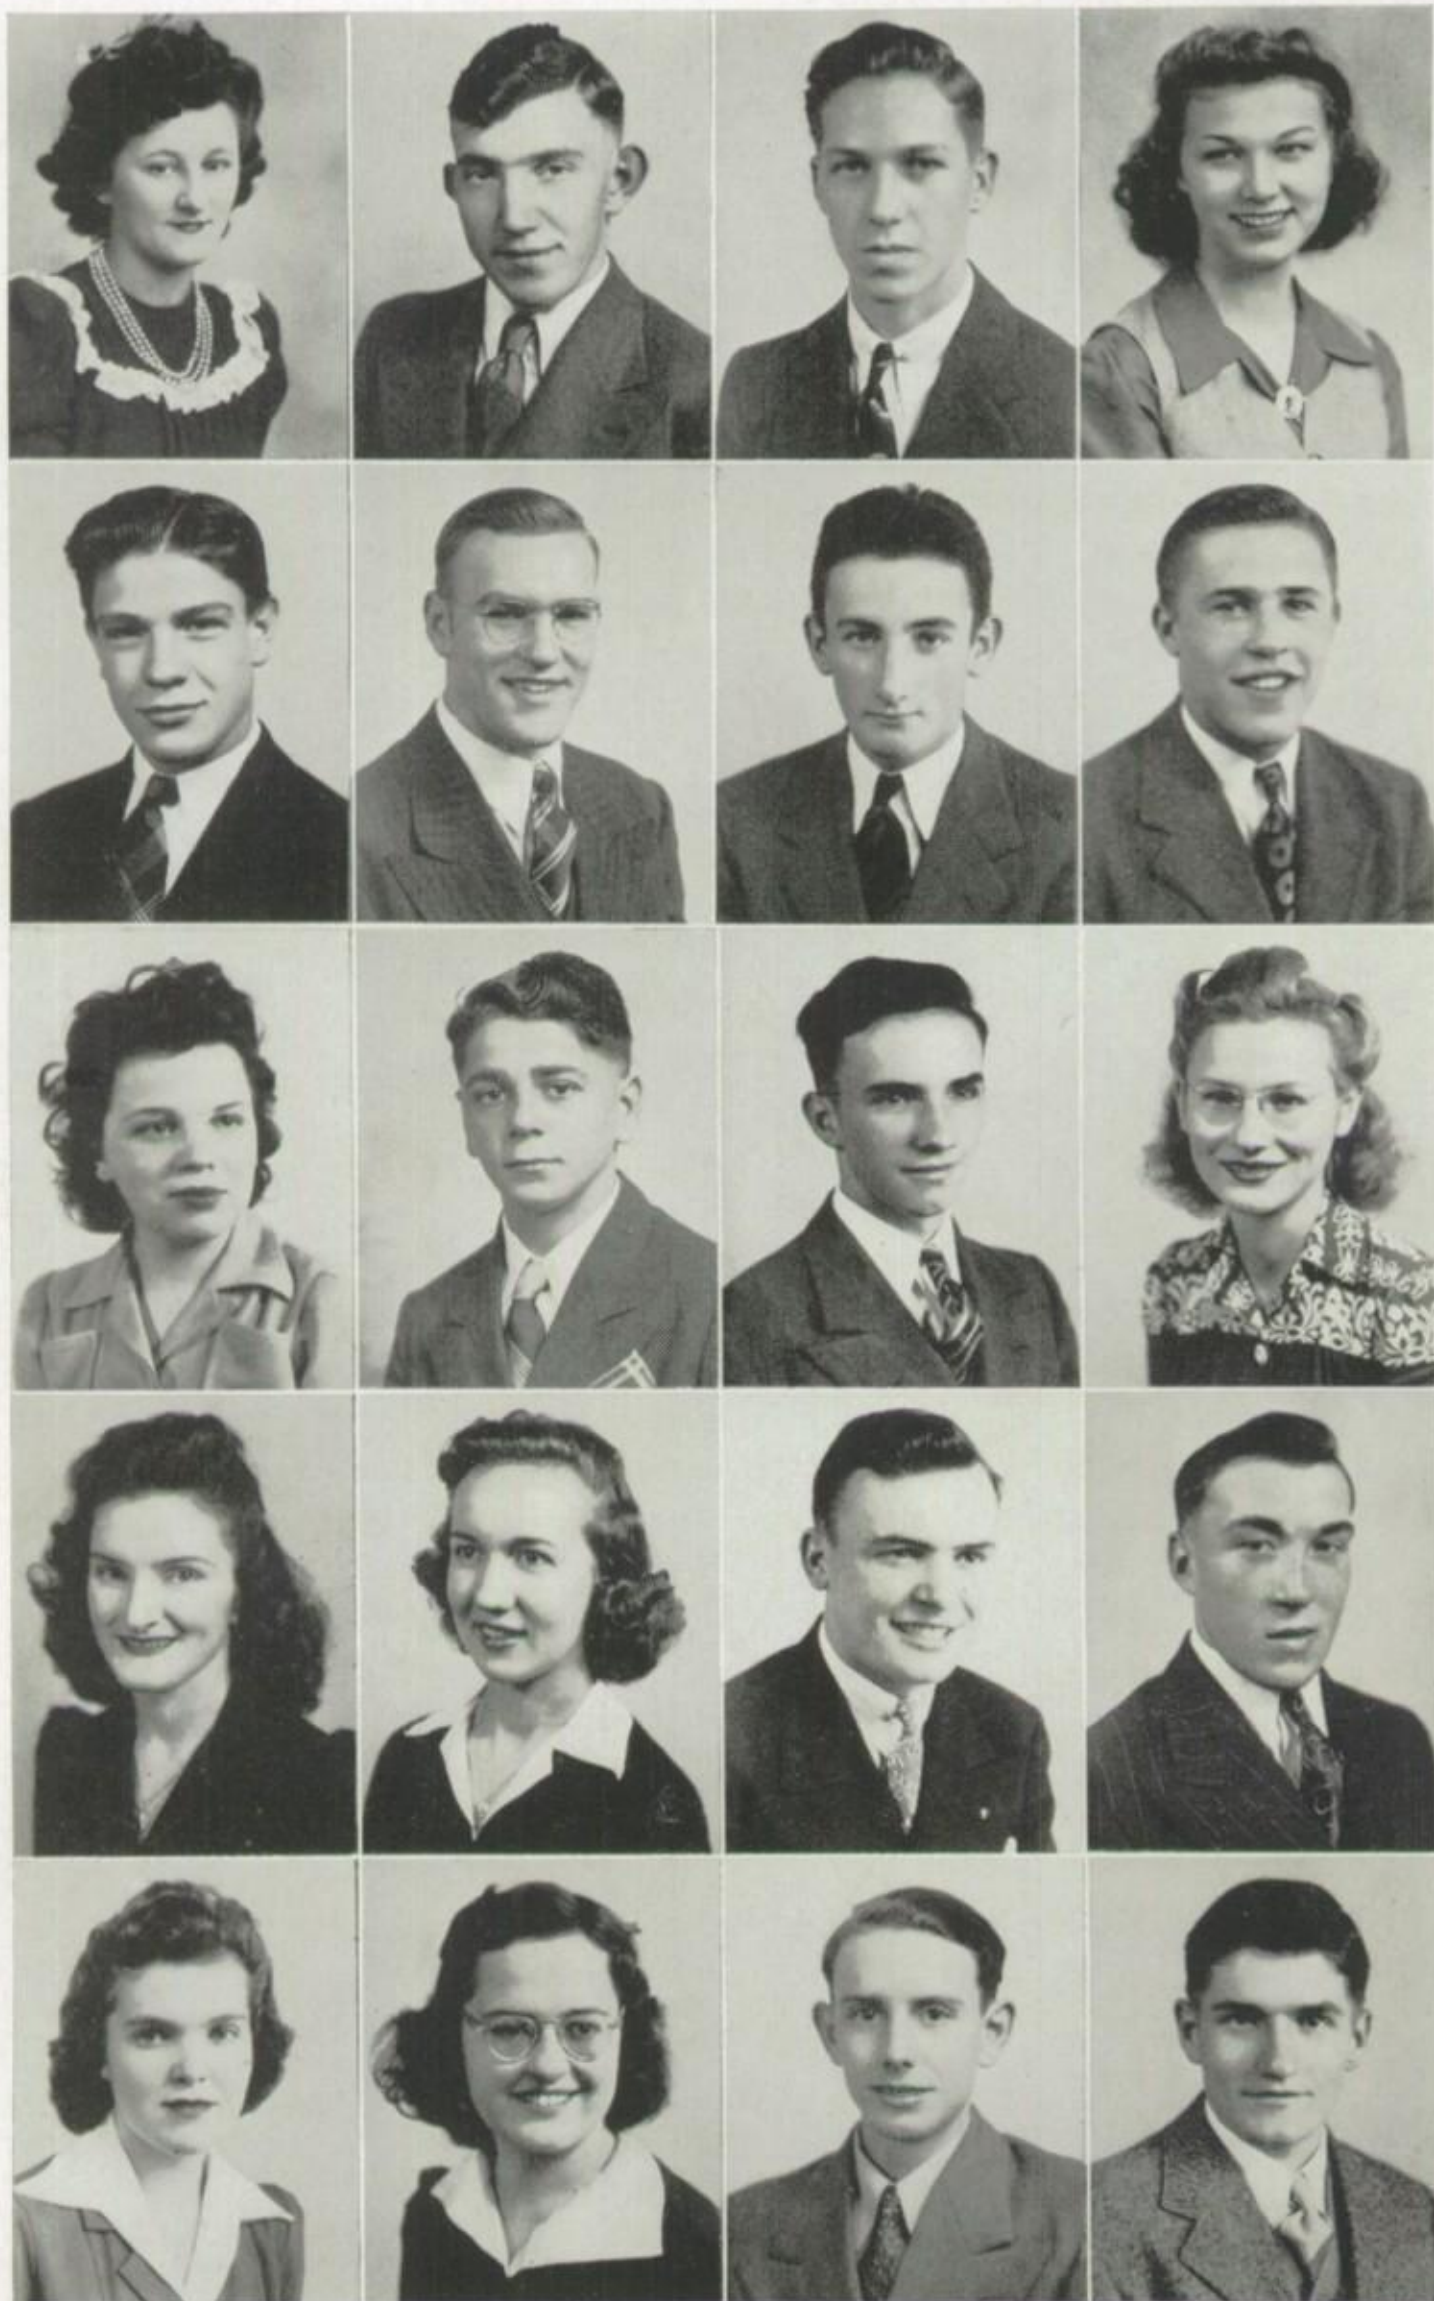

ANITA GLOVER—Now identified by newly acquired ribbons and curls, she with her obstinate opinions does lessons between bells.

ROBERT GOOD—"Bob" entangles himself in the bass drum to bring out the notes of the deep.

EVELYN GRIFFITH—We know her working experience at Woolworth's will not jeopardize her desire to become a successful army nurse.

SARA HANEY—She's one of the weaker sex who doesn't shut her eyes when she sees the volley ball coming over the net.

ING A NEW AND LASTING PEACE. OUR AIM IS TO PRE-

SERVE THE LIBERTIES WE NOW ENJOY AND TO SHARE

MARY HAVRILAK—We'll remember Mary, who could be seen dancing smoothly in the gym at noon, by her colorful hair ribbons and ankle socks.

ELMER HORNER—The reason cows were invented—so "Elm" could milk them. He's a real dirt farmer and proud of it.

PAUL HORWAT—Our immaculately groomed senior with friends galore and a complexion you dream about. Who said blushing is a thing of the past?

BETTY INTIHAR—A lilt of laughter at unexpected moments, the tapping of typewriter keys, a hurried conversation with Dolly are sounds detected when Betty is in 206.

DUANE JACOBS—Small but mighty, he gets the news or else! His inimitable sense of humor probably accounts for "Jake's" giggles.

CHARLES JORDAN—A very innocent looking boy who is known to be a studious fellow interested in sports, but best of all he likes to fool around.

PAUL JOYCE—When not starring in football, basketball, and track, "Sock" is showing the rest of the kids how games should be played.

THOMAS KALMANIR—A football hero who always gets his man (as well as girl), excels in dropping balls in the baskets, and rolls in friends with his facetious chuckles.

LEORA KALTENBAUGH—Mix sugar for sweetness, ginger for wit, add peppermint blushes to hide embarrassing moments and top off the concoction with whipped cream giggles.—A prize winning recipe.

JOHN KAUFMAN—Mysterious because unique! This boy who doesn't fall in love every other week, loves the out-of-door life and is lost without his drum.

MELVIN KAUFMAN—Has Melvin deliberately evaded the fairer sex? Remember Melvin, woman was created to take care of man.

HELEN KONIECZNY—What an energetic person! Give her anything to do, and she'll get it done whether or no! She is a grand usher.

BERTHA KOSAK—Despite a case of "blushism" which successfully covers that splatter of freckles for the time being, she is one of our most tidy, meticulous seniors.

MARGARET KOSCO—Our faithful typist with lots of patience who makes as few mistakes in life as in typing.

GEORGE KOGUT—One of our unsolved mysteries who coasts along never knowing what trouble is.

MIKE KNUREK—The vocational agriculture boy who with enough training will soon be able to take over the "Charlie Schwab Estate."

DOLORES KUBASIK—A waitress, an usher, a secretary, and perfect in all of them. Is this due to her neatness, reliability, and personality?

LOIS LA BRIE—Versatility is the name of Lois. She has proved that science, commercial work, and music can be combined.

ROBERT LANDERS—"Bob" is the boy who loves them all—we mean the girls. Even though he left school twice, he decided C. T. H. S. is the best place after all.

LEMON LAPE—He is not nearly as sour as his name implies, in fact he is a right nice guy.

WITH ALL PEOPLES THESE FREEDOMS—FREEDOM OF

SPEECH, FREEDOM OF RELIGION, FREEDOM FROM

RICHARD LEADBEATER—Good natured, robust and ever smiling is this journalistic student, who entertains his fellow classmates with those hilarious wise cracks.

ESTHER LEHMAN—The sweet aroma arising from the kitchen where June is baking those flaky, crunchy pie crusts will aid in lassoing her heart throb.

PAUL LINT—A walking dental advertisement is the club editor of the CONNUMACH, who is the boy of our dreams come true.

MARION LUKICH—She is the picture of a very sedate little girl, who according to the C. T. H. S. standards is a very efficient commercial student.

MARY LYNCH—The enthusiastic sportsman, with a cheery smile and jolly "hello", who is not given to over-worry about marks.

MARION MAGUIRE—Another victim of blushism. Do you want to know her future life's vocation? Well, glance at the third finger, left hand.

JACK MARKS—He is quiet in the classroom, but oh does he blossom at noon hour! Who would guess that he has such a romantic soul?

JOHN MASLAK—Why does he always have that worried look on his face? Perhaps he is afraid a girl will speak to him.

JOSEPH MASLAK—An ambitious nature disguised by a devil-may-care grin identifies our grid-iron hero with a half-nelson hold and a good upper cut.

LOUIS MASTRACOLA—One of the strong silent men who is certainly not fickle. He is a modern Alexander Hamilton.

LESTER McDANIEL—A good patronizer of our skating parties, who will be remembered by his friendliness to all. Good luck in the future, "Les."

VIOLET McDANIEL—With a calm serenity, masked capability and efficiency to be diverted into stenographic channels, her excess energy is spent blowing the trumpet.

SARA MERLEY—A blonde of blondes, who after two years of successful cheerleading, decided to take over the position of a flag twirler.

SOPHIA MIGUET—The brunette shekel carrier of our dear old Alma Mater, whose efficiency and friendliness rate her first on classmate's friendship test.

EARL MURRAY—Our men of leisure without a care in the world, who lets life go along like a song. He's contented with most anything!

FORREST MAUGLE—A bang with a hammer, a zing with a saw and Forrest is at ease. Nice going, keep it up!!

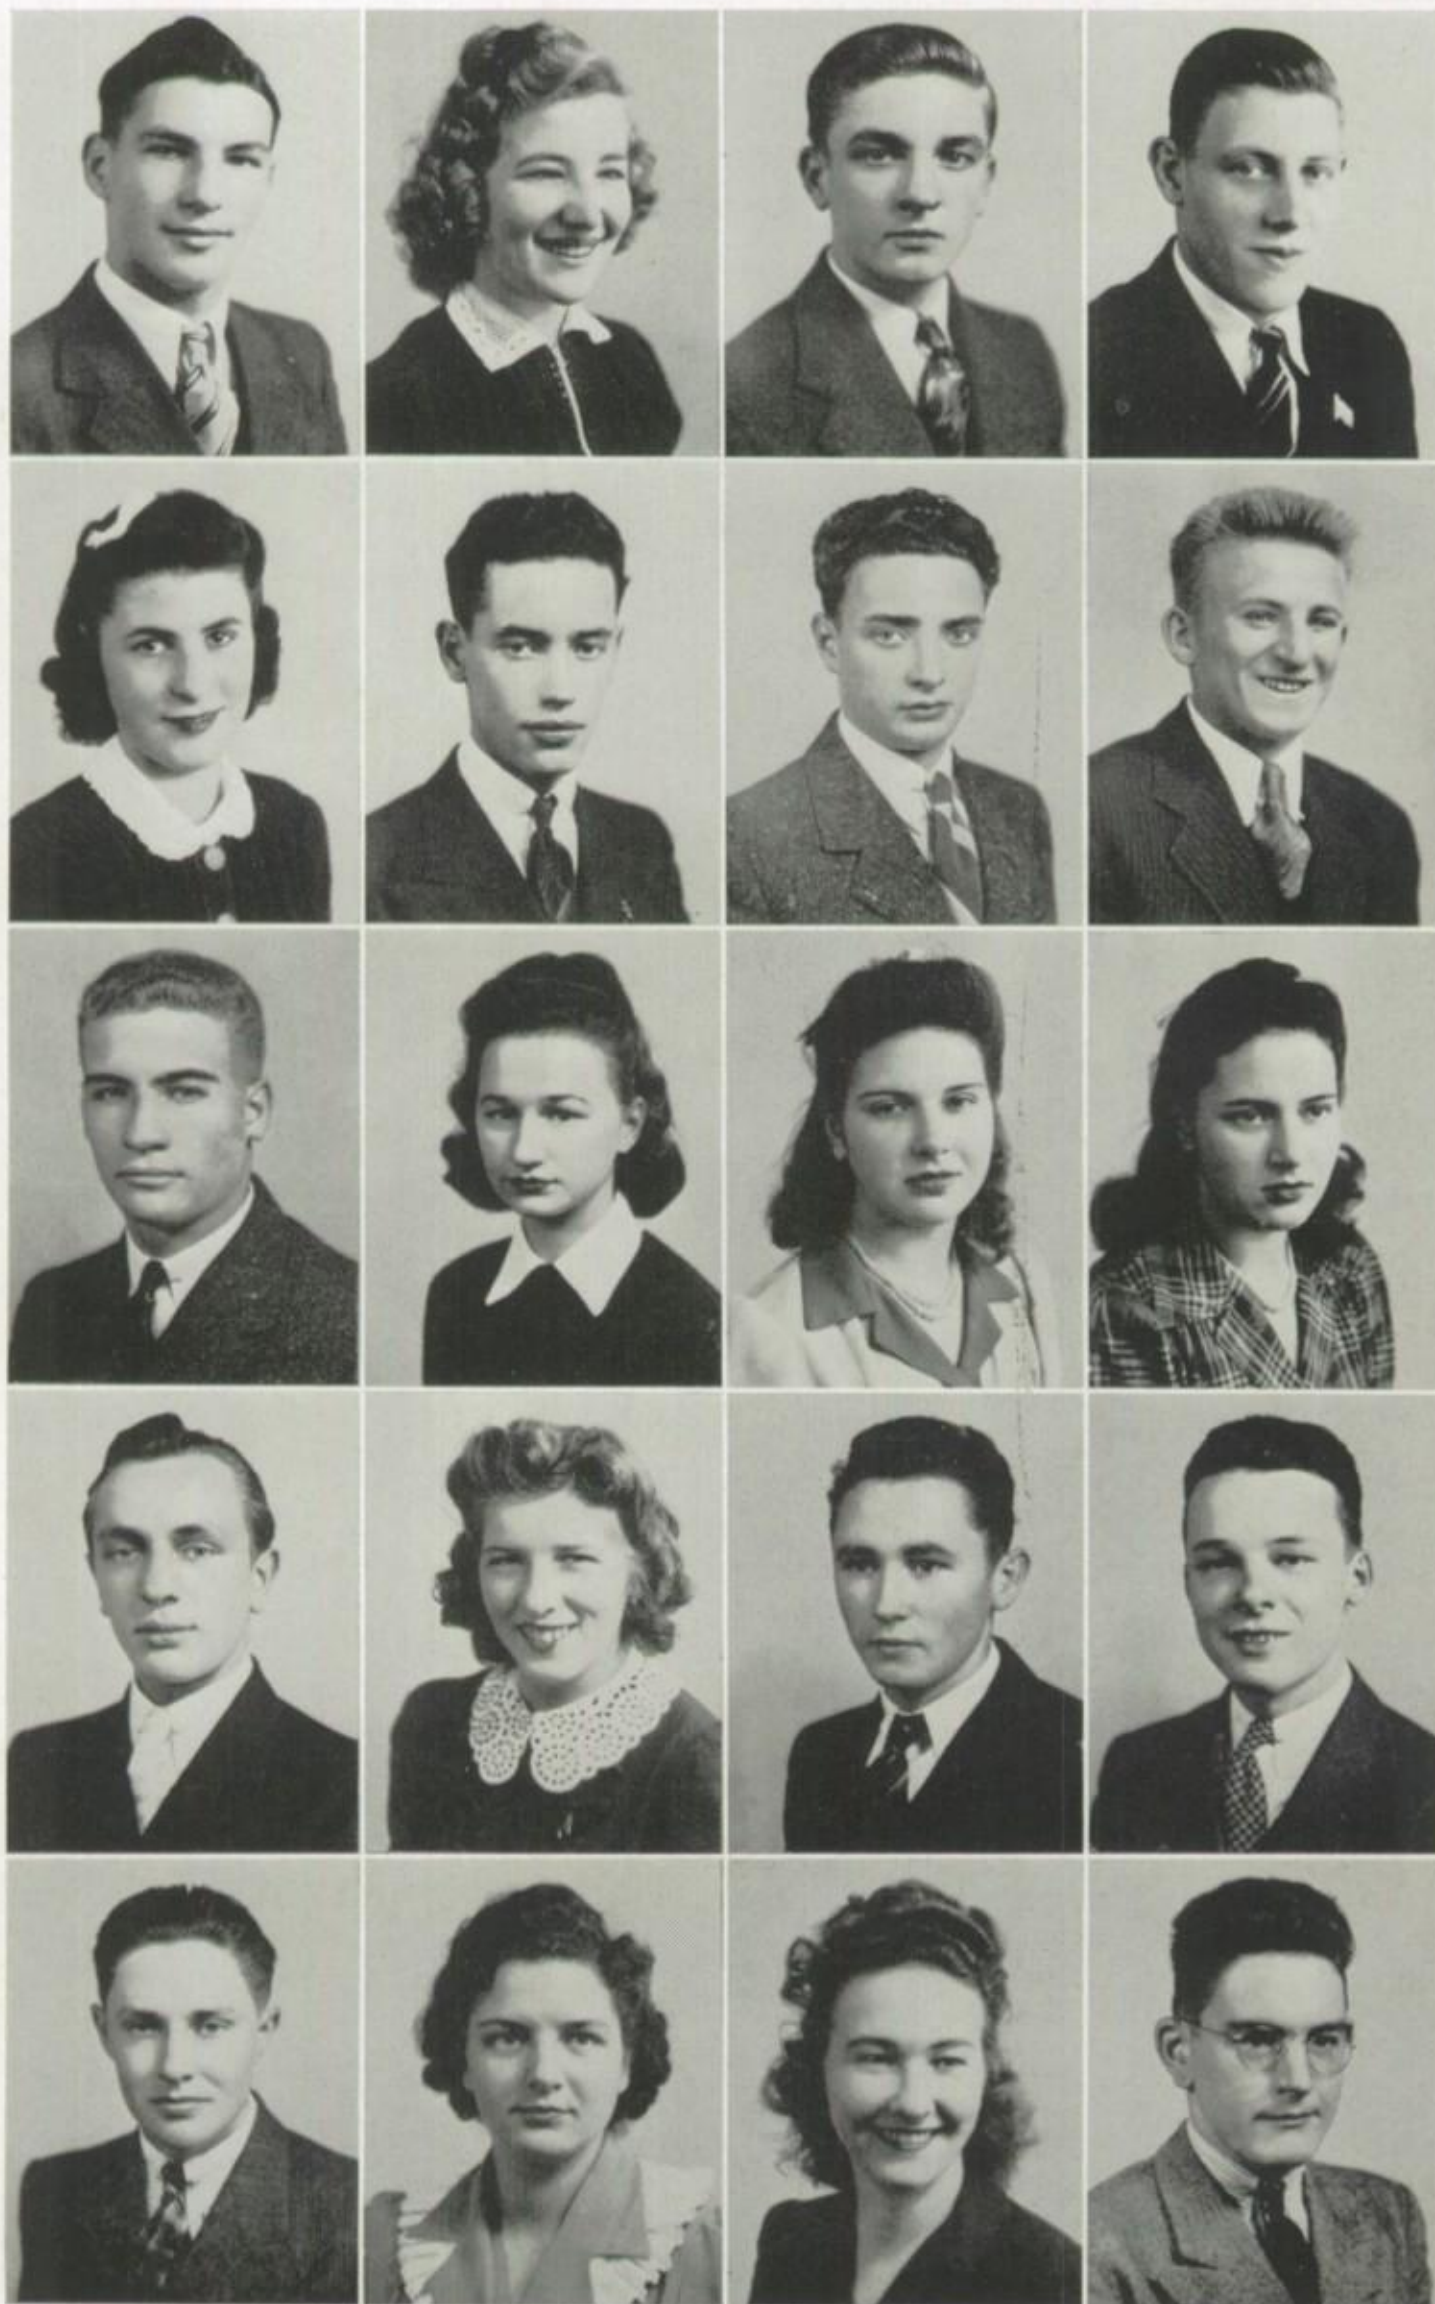

MARJORIE NAUGLE—Our clarinet player and CONTOWNIAN staff member, who contributed her bit toward the success of the CONNUMACH. She was the advertisement-subscription manager.

MARY NESTOR—Even though she believes "fun is the spice of life," she does not entirely lose interest in her school work.

WILLIAM NORTH—Please don't ask about nightwork, cause he just can't bear it, but when tests come around he knows the answers. Or does he?

ROBERT O'CONNOR—Quiet until aroused—then look out, for Bob has a temper! ! ! He can become meek as a lamb in P. O. D. class.

WANT, AND FREEDOM FROM FEAR—THUS MAKING A BETTER WORLD—A WORLD OF HAPPINESS AND SANITY.

JOHN ONYSHKO—The quiz master who pesters us dignified seniors with questions from A to Z, but he always receives an intelligent answer.

EDNA PEBLEY—Dick's little shadow with quite an efficient appearance who is so helpful to teachers and students.

CRAWFORD RINGLER—He has a slow walk, drowsy look and is indifferent to school work, but just give him a chance at the navy !

ELTON ROBERTS—Live right and die quick. Elton wants business. Shoot! ! ! A pig-skin carrier whose ambition is to be a mortician.

EVA ROBERTSON—Slow down on that chewing gum, there's a 35 mile speed limit and retread applications are hard to get.

SAM RULLO—With no care in the world, Sam spends all his leisure moments in the woods. In fact hunting is his favorite pastime.

SAMUEL RULLO—He is another Daniel Boone hunter who is one of these two-fisted, square-jawed women haters.

CHARLES RUNTZ—A miniature model of Hercules with a great capacity for getting into mischief, who fulfilled the expectations of fans this year by playing spectacular football.

FRED SEESE—A blonde bomber who starred on the football team, a cocksure tackler who tackled the job of assistant editor to the yearbook and came out on top.

MARY SENDEK—With a heart that belongs to daddy, Mary successfully captivates friends. Let's hope her score in life is as high as it is in basketball.

BETTE SHAFFER—A shock of brown hair lightly covers the honor roll brain of this able and reserved assistant to Miss Segel.

MARY SHAFFER—Mary's envied intelligence and good common sense are an asset to her. She is very much interested in the navy—or at least in one sailor!

CHARLES SLOVICH—"The Jack of All Trades." Let's hope he will make as great a success selling himself as he does selling his newspapers.

THERESA SMAKULA—The girl who reads five books a week, who is always around when there is work to be done, is expectant secretary for some big shot.

JOHN SOTOSKY—Those dark penetrating eyes and hair so set in its waves are a great attraction to the fairer sex!

GENE SPANGLER—Our absent minded professor in the making who loves to build castles in the air. Nevertheless he is an answer to some fair maiden's prayer.

JAMES SPORY—Bound to be a successful farmer, "Jim's" pigs are expected to win first prize at the next world's fair.

ROMAINE STAHL—Yes, she is our conscientious worker with lots of wit, poise and personality, who does many things and does them well.

CORA START—Besides possessing talent for arranging hair which accounts for her own coiffure, she favors commercial subjects and has a breezy "hiya" for everyone.

DAVID STEELE—One of our left-handed mathematicians who will drop study for his fun and has the ability to out-talk any girl.

UNDAUNTED BY DEFEAT WE LOOK TO THE FUTURE

AND ARE CONFIDENT OF BEING VICTORIOUS.

STEVE STETZ—Will he ever catch that bus? No! It's because of his profound love for sleep and to just fool around.

OWEN STEVENS—The boy from Gobbler's Hollow with curly hair and "happy go lucky" ways, is a lady's admirer as well as a chum to all his boy friends.

DOROTHY SWARTZWELDER—Vim, vigor and vitality helped "Dot" produce that ideal character of "Gay" in the junior play. Let's hope she keep her enthusiasm on the stage of life.

RICHARD WAYNE SWARTZWELDER—Besides being invincible in an argument, Wayne possesses something no other senior boy does—true blonde hair.

JAMES TELENKO—An authority on the delicate art of love—he thinks. Back stage, he is Miss Long's right hand man.

JOE TEZZA—A lad as dependable as the rock of Gibraltar but not half so stern and forbidding and is also a stellar gridiron performer.

GRACE THOMAS—Grace's wavy hair, good looks and sunny disposition cannot be ignored nor forgotten. These characteristics are decisive stepping-stones toward the matrimony career.

WILLIAM THOMAS—Yes, he's just plain "Bill," always jolly and nothing to worry about except his Ford, chickens and the girls.

GEORGE TIMKO—He has six feet of a quiet personality, blue eyes and blonde hair, whose favorite sport is basketball.

CHARLES TISACK—An unsolved mystery, who we know will shed many tears because he is leaving his dear Alma Mater.

RICHARD TRACHOK—Even though he spends most of his time participating in athletics, we always find his name on the honor roll.

HENRY URANKAR—A quiet fellow in the classroom who possesses the horse-sense of Benjamin Franklin and aims to keep one foot on the ground.

MARY WASIL—The quiet senior, who is sure to puzzle. She likes to read, but more than that, she is undecided with her future.

PAULINE WASNICK—With a well-aimed push and a forceful shove, Pauline secures her seat in the bus. But why that weak grin before reciting?

DOROTHY WEBER—The senior girl, who is bound to make a Florence Nightingale the second, because of her determination and common sense.

HENRIETTA WILLIAMS—No one could know less about a person than we know about Henrietta. However we know her interests lie in the commercial field.

DORIS WILLIAMSON—The staid, dark-haired farmerette with cheeks rosy as apples when reciting, whose interest lies in working with business.

PHYLLIS YOUNG—Because of her sincere desire to become an air hostess we may say, "the air is her ambition but the earth is her abode."

HELEN ZADELL—The self-conscious senior, who would rather do anything than speak in public.

JOHN ZAMBOTTI—One of the "eleven" who knows his place on the basketball floor and considers homework and the "femmes" incidentals of the school.

OUR OFFICER CANDIDATES

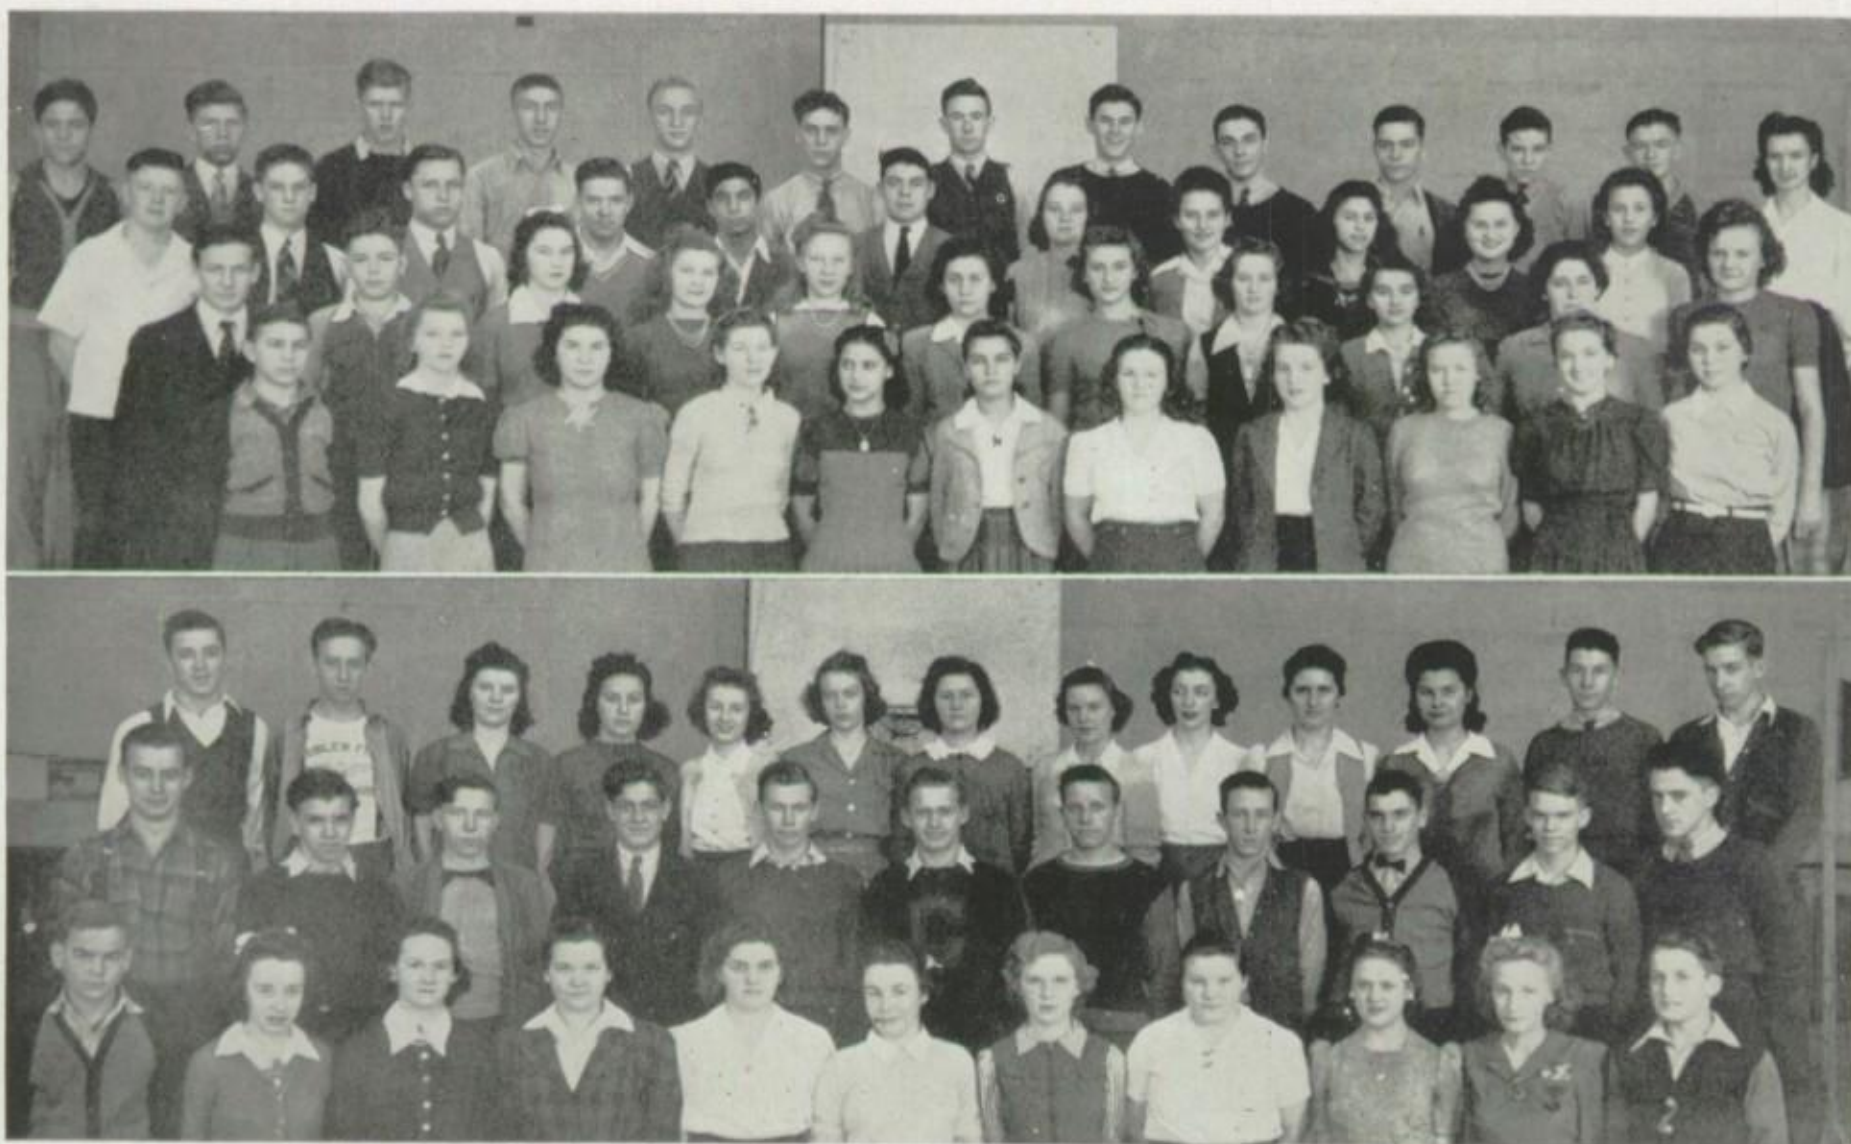

The organization of the one hundred and thirty-five juniors at the beginning of the year made possible a very successful year. Miss Joseph and Mr. Berkebile were elected to replace last year's deans, Mr. Hess, who accepted a position in another locality and Miss Gardner who resigned to marry. Joe Turgeon again took over the honorary position as president with John Pike as his assistant. Mary Charnesky was given the financial responsibilities with Geraldine Lohr again acting as secretary.

In order to beat the gasoline rationing the juniors had the first skating party of the year held November 14, at Westmont Grove and it was well attended.

Later in the year they sponsored a wax paper campaign which proved to be a roaring success. The cooperation of the entire group was largely responsible for this achievement.

Due to rationing and the gasoline ban the class was unable to have the annual Junior three-act play but three-one-act comedies namely—"Love in Bloom"—"The Tale of a Shirt" and "His First Shave" were presented to the student body on January 22. The plays proved to be a success considering all difficulties which arose during the year.

The Junior Class is also proud of the boys who represent them in the Armed Forces. Plans for the latter-part of the year were uncertain because of the war-time restrictions.

THE CORPORALS

The one-hundred and sixty-one sophomores were organized for the first time in December. Miss Wardlaw and Mr. Fuller are their newly elected deans. Charles Washic took over the honorary position as president with Donald Jacobs as his assistant. Leland Blough was given the financial responsibilities with Josephine DiMaura acting as secretary.

The corporals give the school a very promising out-look by their participation in many extra curricular activities. Having two members in the school store they prove themselves trustworthy. John Dohoda and the class president, Charles Washic, represent them in football while Wayne Thomas is an up-and-coming basketeer. Look! here comes the band and sophomores leading. Bob Brennamen, the drum major is followed closely by the majorettes, Jean McNulty and Edna Sipe. Sophomores certainly aren't slow in the music field because even three of the bands outstanding soloists descend from this outstanding class. They could also be called "the humming birds" because one-fourth of the corporals make up one-half of the chorus.

Don't you think these corporals will make good officers?

OUR PRIVATES FIRST CLASS, PRIVATES, AND YARD BIRDS

With these so-called underclassmen lies the future and success of Conemaugh Township High School for the next few years.

Those seventh graders were certainly thrilled and surprised the first day they stepped into this grand building. They soon, however, became acquainted with the school and are no longer bewildered by our system.

Then we have those indispensable eighth graders. Though these students seem to just be here, we would miss their presence very much. Although the eighth graders cannot participate in many activities yet, surely their worth will be proved when they have climbed to their positions as upper classmen.

Although the freshmen led a dog's life the first week of school, they have now taken their places as a very important part of our school. The freshmen have finally reached the place where they can participate in more activities and are showing their abilities in more ways than one.

All in all the future and success of Conemaugh Township has a very bright outlook for the next few years.

THE CONNUMACH STAFF

This year the Connumach Staff, boasting the greatest number of subscriptions sold in the history of the school, has eagerly awaited the day that they can breathe a sigh of relief and settle down to examine the finished product of the 1943 Connumach.

The worry and work experienced by the staff is seldom realized when a person looks at the finished yearbook. Writeups are not the only nightmare of the staff; the pictures add considerably to their troubles, to say nothing of the advertising, selling, and the proper arrangement of the articles of the book.

One of the main barriers along the way to completion was the taking of the pictures.

The student who wanted to stand by his pal at the other end of the line, and distinguishing a long bell from a short one were only a few headaches of the staff. When the sizes of pupils range from Charles Borosky to Ella Jane Bailey you can get a glimpse of what a task it was to get good pictures. Our Editor-in-Chief, Esther Eash, topped highest honors for the busiest staff member by driving the rest of the staff to get their write-ups in before the deadline. Between their interrupting Miss Long's classes for the key to the store room and pestering every other person for club suggestions, they have finally put out the 1943 edition of the CONNUMACH.

CONTOWNIAN STAFF

Devoted to the task of trying to get the weekly school publication out are the members of the Journalism I, II and III classes. Headed by chief stooge, Duane Jacobs, and with Miss Mellinger as adviser, the Contownian staff is composed of seventeen members. A capable bunch of news-hounds made up the staff, who with a little push did a fine job.

The staff published approximately thirty issues during the school term with the publication deadline on Friday of each week. The deadline was usually met even if things like getting the editor and his assistant, Genevieve Bagos, out of classes had to be done.

To become a member of the newspaper staff the unsuspecting student first had to have above average English grades. Secondly, he had to be approved by Miss Mellinger who then took him into her care to try to cram some newspaper sense into his skull. Speaking of skulls, the ears are a part of the head and it has been said that a reporter has an eye for news, a nose for news, and an ear for a pencil.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

Farming as an essential cog in the all out "crush the Axis" effort has been brought before the public in many ways. Since farmers are asked to increase dairy, poultry, field crops, and general livestock products, the F. F. A. Boys' projects are directly in line. Because of travel restrictions, the only exhibits this year were at the C. T. H. S. and the Jenner's Fair. James Spory exhibited his Registered Chester White gilt and Mike Knurek his peppers, potatoes, and onions. The following ninth graders were initiated into the Green Hand Degree: Lester Brunnell, Robert Redick, Emory Hollsopple, Robert Miller, Samuel Hollsopple, Charles Moore, William Shetler, Robert Thomas, William Walter, James Weaver, Noah Yoder, and Stephen Witeof of eleventh grade. The Chapter Farmer Degree was awarded to Dwight Keafer, Mike Knurek, and Richard Thomas. The school nursery, in which the F. F. A. boys assist, has been qualified for a state license. Enough permanent planting has been done by the group to enable them to visualize the future school ground. Our plan is to have the most beautiful landscaping in the state.

THE SCHOOL BANK

"May I have change for one dollar?" Yes, this is a familiar question heard in the school bank which is open for business fourth period. The bookkeeping is done during the sixth period by Sophia Miguët, cashier. Mary Charnesky, a junior, and Helen Blough, a sophomore, are in charge of business transactions. This year Miss Schrall had been head of the bank, but after resigning Mr. Haynes took over. All checks are signed by Mr. Spory or Mr. Stephens and Sophia Miguët. Her successor for next year will be Mary Charnesky aided by Helen Blough.

THE SCHOOL STORE

Despite the affect the war had on the school store, it still functioned as usual under the able direction of Miss Segel. Besides the regular routine of selling candy, ice cream, pop, etc., the school store also held its annual variety show. The program consisted of a wide field of performers. Those who took first, second, and third places by a popular vote were as follows: First, the Glessner Mill Trio—Gaynelle Kocher, Jean Mishler, Luda Henry. Second, Bruno Calisti, imitator. Third, Eleanor Mishler, reading.

"THE POST SERENADERS"

Conemaugh Township High School has turned southern on us—see there goes a girl now, all done up in hoops and curls. Boys alike are sprouting tails and I do mean pegged pants. This simply means they are presenting "The Beantown Choir." Twenty-five members of the chorus were chosen to participate in this musical comedy given by the band. Representing the Junior High chorus in this were Anna Marie Mylant and Luda Henry, ninth graders. Besides the comedy, the choruses were active in the Christmas assembly, during which they sang "Beautiful Savior" and "Silent Night." The Junior High chorus is the larger of the two with one hundred-nine members while the Senior High has eighty-six.

Elected to serve as officers for the year 1943 were as follows: Junior High—president, Esther Donati; vice-president, Elizabeth Miguët; secretary, Anna Marie Mylant; librarians, Dolores Riddle, Nancy Treverrow, and Virginia Layton. Senior High—president, Richard Collier; vice-president, Duane Jacobs; librarians, Harry Cable, Donald Blough.

Every fourth period the attention of students was diverted from their subjects, and teachers became frantic when those forty "tooters" began tuning and blowing. After five or ten minutes, this usually ceased with Mrs. Lohr, their director, coming upon the scene. Goodness! How much more melodious were those sweet strains of music once she took charge. Even though classes were disturbed, we feel sure the teachers were repaid for all their miseries when the band played in assemblies, perhaps only "to march 'em in and out." The members, of course, didn't object, for this got many out of their fifth period class quite frequently without having to play hooky and take detention. Maybe the band got a GOOD start LATE, but upon Mrs. Lohr's arrival they certainly stepped around. AND HOW!!! This late start, however, did not hinder them for they were able to appear at every football game except Portage, whether rain or shine. Their outstanding performance of the season was probably exhibited at Windber when they formed the anchor and swung it down the field playing "From the Halls of Montezuma." To extricate themselves from debt and to make extra money they commenced selling Christmas cards early in October. With the co-operation of everyone, this campaign brought them out on top of the pile and gave them breathing space once more. Don't develop the wrong impression that when football season ends the band rests, for it is at this time that the band really gets down to brass tacks. Then is the time that they really attempt to learn and appreciate the finer arts of music while putting them into practical use. At the beginning of the year, the following officers were elected: president, Lois LaBrie; vice president, Romaine Stahl; treasurer, Joseph Turgeon; librarians, Violet McDaniel and Robert Barndt.

Under the direction of Miss Shaffer and accompanied by Nila Kaufman, these eight, little twittering song birds chirped till the tree tops shook. The fluttering organization had their regular weekly meeting on Friday the second period. During their practice periods this throaty group usually rehearsed the individual parts of the numbers and finally concluded by combining the four parts, forming, without doubt, close harmony. The talented members are Romaine Stahl and Margaret Smith in the soprano section, Mary Louise and Helen Blough singing alto, Donald and Leland Blough as tenors, with Richard Colliver and James Ringler chanting bass.

Although the orchestra was discontinued last year because of the lack of experienced violinists, they managed this year to find one here and there; so 'till they were finished, they had what is known as the orchestra. Making their debut at "The Beantown Choir" performance, they proved their worthiness.

They also furnished music for senior commencement and baccalaureate services. At the beginning of the year, with Mrs. Lohr as their shepherdess, they elected the following people to offices: President, Andrew Racosky; vice-president, Lois LaBrie; Secretary-treasurer, Joe Turgeon; Librarians, Robert Good and Herald Griffith.

"Slap that bass, beat those skins, get in the groove." It's the swing band going into action. At the beginning of the year many sour notes floated from the auditorium during the club period. Since then they have improved greatly. We listened to some of their swing sessions during assembly period—and it was really pleasing to the ear! Joseph Turgeon, the Gene Krupa of the band, was elected president; Lois LaBrie, vice-president; Herald Griffith, treasurer, and John W. Kaufman, secretary. Mrs. Lohr kept after the members with a real power, so give her the credit for their success.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The students of our school are learning democracy by practicing self-government under the guidance of the Student Council.

A luncheon was held January 8, in honor of Dr. Byron Williams, moderator of Junior Town Meetings, who conducted a Junior Town Meeting in the high school auditorium. The participants were Romaine Stahl, Duane Jacobs, a member of the Student Council, Richard Colliver, and Dalton Dill. Mr. Stephens and Mr. Spory, local administrators, Miss Wardlaw and Mr. Kautz, present faculty advisors of the Student Council, and the Junior and Senior High School officers were present.

The Christmas season was made cheerful by the committee which took charge of decorating the halls and auditorium.

The biggest task of the Student Council this term was the taking over of the sale of defense stamps and bonds. The Home Room representatives are the Student salesmen, and the Home Rooms compete against one another. This system has worked very well, having as the total of the first two months' sales $3,000.

Every where we see posters made by the Advertising Committee reminding us to buy war bonds and stamps to help our country in the fight to save the ideals of democracy.

HI-Y

The Hi-Y has, during the past season, proved themselves to be an active and energetic group. Living up to their four plank program of clean speech, clean sportsmanship, and clean living as a whole, they have been active in Bible studies, parties, and basketball activities.

Under the guidance of Mr. Thomas they have in the past two years finished the Hi-Y Bible study, and have again competed for honor this year.

The position of president was well filled by Calvin Barkley, with Duane Jacobs as vice-president. Robert Geisel wore out pencil after pencil as secretary while Dalton Dill "raked in the dough" as treasurer.

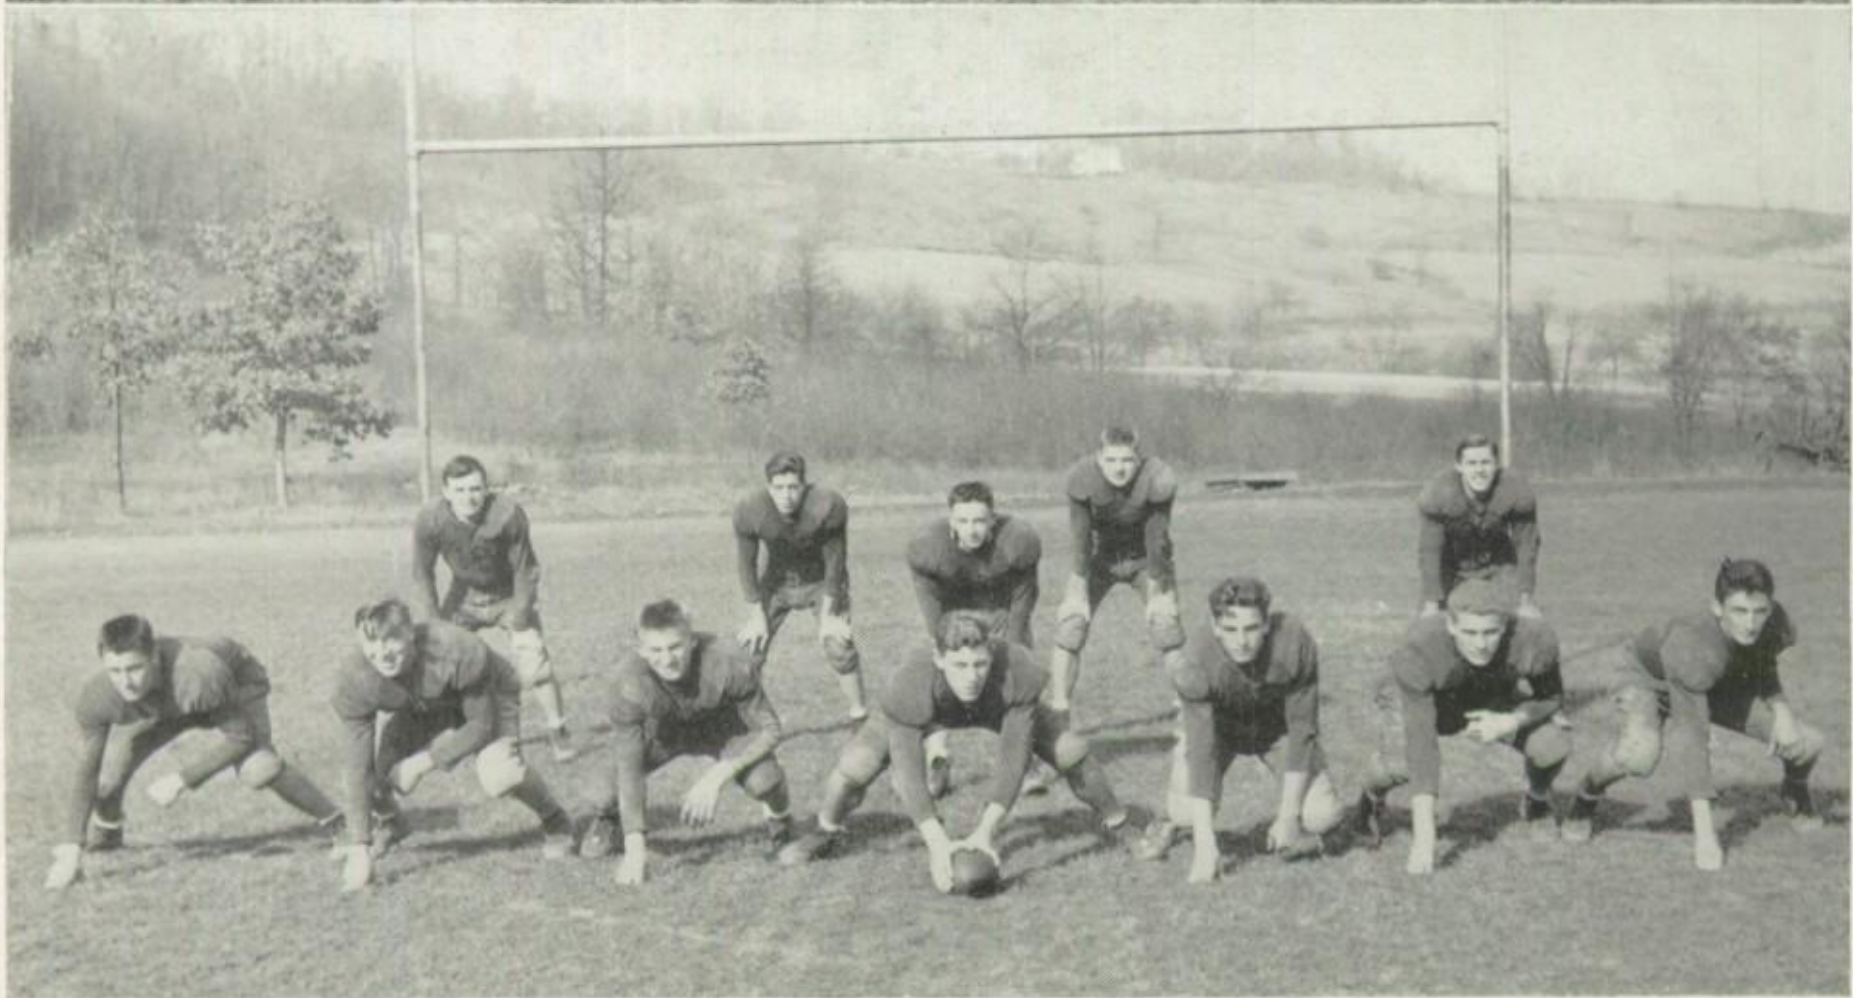

G. A. A.

"Come on girls, the period is almost over."
"We want to play today not tomorrow."
These are remarks you may have heard in the gym Tuesday seventh period. Then you see the kids playing a rough game of basketball, their favorite sport.

At the beginning of the year the new members of the club were initiated by not being permitted to wear make-up, speak to boys, or wear jewelry, ribbons, and bobby pins.

Their aim is to be active and to be ever improving their abilities in sports, keeping uppermost in their minds the development of qualities associated with sportsmanship.

The officers are Ruth Georg, president; Jeanne Crock, vice-president; Mary Haverlak, secretary; Mary Rullo, treasurer; Miss Tipton, adviser.

FOOTBALL

For the third straight year, Conemaugh Township possesses a new Coach. Coach Harold Smith of Windber took up the reins which were dropped by Walter Nosal last year, and Peter Fee the previous season.

The season was a fair one for the Smith-men, who won four, lost five, and tied one game. Their first game found them losing to Johnstown High, 25-0 in their night tilt at the Point Stadium which was witnessed by approximately five thousand fans.

In their second tilt, the Braves soundly trounced a strong Somerset High School team 19-0. Tommy Kalmanir, senior halfback, spear-headed Conemaugh Township High School's attack by scoring 13 points.

In their second game at the Point Stadium the Indians of Conemaugh Township and the Yellow Jackets of Ferndale fought to a scoreless tie.

Conemaugh Township tasted bitter defeat for the second time at the hands of Ebensburg's Red Devils, 37-21.

A game played on Price Memorial Field, knocked Westmont High from the ranks of the undefeated, 26-6. Most of the Braves' scoring was done in the last period, when twenty of their points were scored.

Portage High School defeated the Indians, 19-13 in a game that was played without the aid of some of the regulars. This contest was climaxed by a 100-yard sprint by Bobby Booth, Portage quarterback.

Gaining glory in defeat, Conemaugh Township High School's Indians lost to Windber High's Ramblers, 26-14. Their "everything to gain and nothing to lose" attitude gained them a 7-7 tie at the end of the first half, a task which no other high school had been able to accomplish this season.

A four-year jinx held by the Conemaugh Iron Horses over Conemaugh Township was broken with a 7-0 win for the Braves.

In their last game of the season, the Braves tangled with their cross-county rivals from Boswell and defeated them, 13-6. Now appearing for the last time in a Conemaugh Township uniform were Joyce, Knurek, Runtz, Zambotti, Seese, Tezza, Kogut, Kalmanir, Maslak, and Trachok.

And so ends Coach Harold's first football season with Conemaugh Township.

BASKETBALL

District Five laurels went to the Indian cagers of Coach Harold Smith during the very successful past season. An outstanding schedule was covered. When the final returns were in, the ledger read twenty-two wins out of twenty-five contests played.

A team made up of four seniors, Kalmanir, Joyce, Trachok, and Colliver, and one junior, Weaver, took the floor in the opening game against the Alumni. These five cage stars answered the starting whistle in every contest, which incidentally, is very unusual.

Every game was not a walk-away for the Warriors, for these boys lost three closely-contested battles by very tight scores; two by one point, and one by a two-point margin. On the other side the Braves also squeezed out on the long end of the score in two games, Somerset and Adams Township. The Somerset contest was decided by three points, and the Adams Township tussle by a mere one point margin.

Six Somerset County teams were meted out defeats at the hand of the champion Indians in the twelve county contests. Cagers from Stonycreek Township, Shade Township, Windber, Somerset, Boswell, and Friedens were tripped in Somerset County competition by the Braves.

The worst defeat given the Braves was at the hands of the Johnstown High Trojans, with the score being 42-26, in the tilt between District five and six champions.

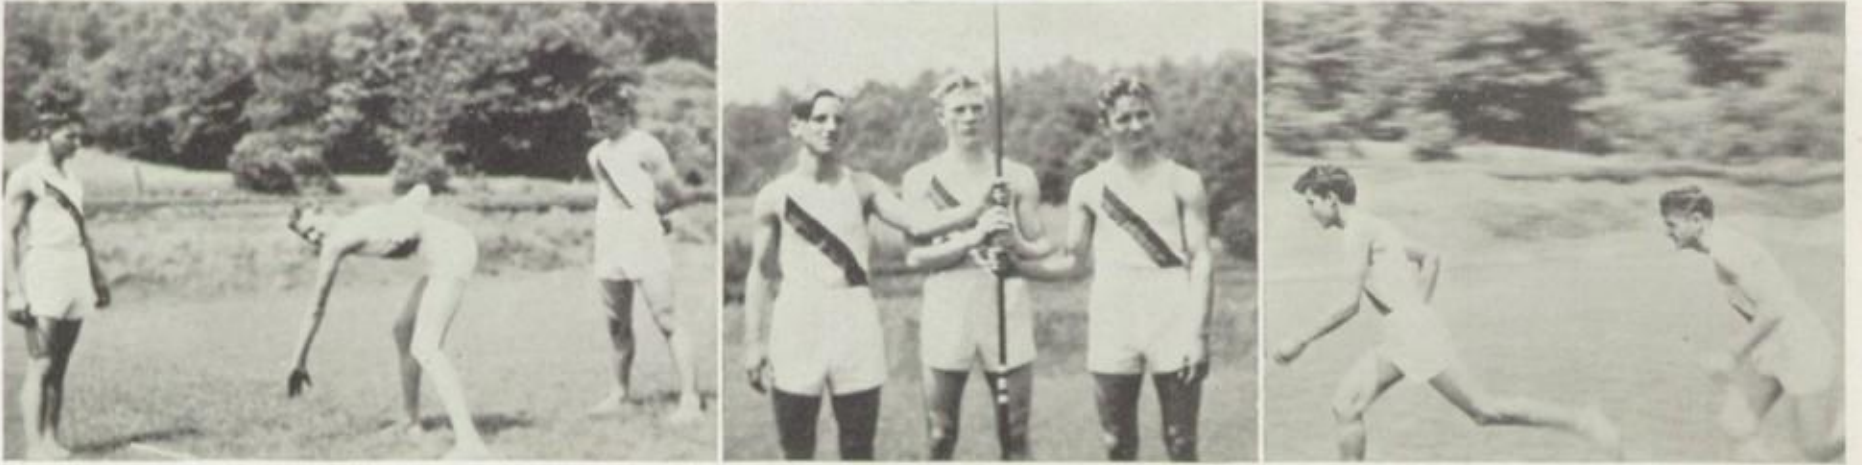

On the other hand, the Braves handed Somerset Township an outstanding 60-25 trouncing. The second-highest score run-up by the Indians was against Shade Township, 44-15.

After all returns were in, Joyce had amassed a total of 250 points to cart off high-scoring honors. Tommy Kalmanir came in second with 238 counters. Of the remaining three starters, Trachok was first, Dick Colliver, second, and Dan Weaver, third.

Next year only one letterman will be back, with Joyce, Kalmanir, Trachok, and Colliver graduating. The only returning cager is Weaver. Also graduating are Maslak and Zambotti.

A new cage mentor will be here next year, and here's wishing him lots of luck in building another championship team.

pated in last year's track: Kalmanir, Punako, Trachok, Glessner, Salvaggio, Joyce, Samfilippo, Kulak, Tezza, Blough, and Williamson who won the mile-run three consecutive times in District five champions.
